3. This application is in condition for allowance except for the following formal matters:
 - a. Claims 2, 16 are objected to because of the following informalities: (a) claim 2, line 8, the phrase "in an intersecting manner the conductor" is grammatically confusing and should be modified appropriately; (b) claim 2, line 3 the phrase "which intersects" is suggested to be changed simply to "intersecting"; (c) the word "which" in lines 5, 7, 8, 10, 13 could be omitted for clarity as well; (d) line 10, the phrase "voltage changing" could be changed to "changing voltage" for better readability. Similar changes may be made to claim 16 as well; (e) for better understanding of applicant's invention, it is suggested that the phrase (or similar language) "which contains materials whose resistance changes nonlinearly due to voltage" be inserted within claims 2 & 16, as set forth in applicants' Abstract. Appropriate correction is required.
